Provide a detailed description of the tasks and duties that you have performed at the organisation during the month. Please complete:

During the month of June, our team was given a Projects focused on researching how traditional car wash business operates and identifying the challenges associated with the existing process.

Based on our research, we developed a digital car wash solution and we named it WASHIFY, which was designed to improve the customer experience and make car wash operations more efficient. Our solution focused on using technology to simplify service bookings, improved customer management, and streamline the overall car wash process. After developing the concept, our team presented WASHIFY to the relevant stakeholders and received feedback on the proposed solutions.

This feedback helped us identify areas for improvement and provided direction for the next stage of the Projects development.

And on the group members that we have I have been appointed as a group leader, helping my group members in a development stages of the app.

What I have learned this month is how to communicate and confidently present a Projects to professionals in a formal boardroom environment while also listening to and responding to professional feedback. Another lesson I have learned is how to use skills I have learned on lectures to solve a real world problem and how it should be presented.

The first draft of the app presentation was very european so we requested for this to be updated. Feedback was taken well by student and changes were investigated.

Thokozani was selected as the lead on the current app development project due to him being well versed in terms of the practical work.

Communication in terms of the real working world environment needs to be worked on.

7.7.2 LOGBOOK REPORT FOR MONTH 2 – JULY 2026

Provide a detailed description of the tasks and duties that you have performed at the organisation during the month. Please complete.

We presented the WASHIFY project to the team, with Mr Martin present. During the presentation, we explained our proposed digital car wash solution and received feedback on the system design and functionality. The feedback helped us understand the areas that needed improvements before implementation.

After presentation I worked on the front-end implementation of the WASHIFY Admin Dashboard. I developed the user interface for managing key car wash operations, including the dashboard, customer, vehicles, bookings, employees, washers, inventory, and other administrative functions. I designed the dashboard so it will give a clear overview for administrators of important information such as customers, bookings, queue status, VIP members, employees, and washers.

I learned how to turn a project requirements and professional feedback into a functional user interface, while improving my skills in front-end development, system design, and presenting technical work professionally.

Recommendations / Areas of Improvement that the Student should focus on in the future:

Previous months feedback was taken well and the changes were made. App now looks more aligned with the South African Standard. Thokozani has also presented app to MKRI on short notice and did very well.

Again, communication skills and punctuality must be improved on.
